Namaste holds Canada's first ever sales-only licence that allows processing and distributing cannabis

Leveraging this licence, proprietary technology, and CPG expertise, we have created an ecosystem where Namaste connects cannabis producers and brands to the Canadian market.

We are one of the few cannabis companies able to effectively control its own margins and manufacture its own products.

We do not compete with Licensed Producers, Cultivators or Brands. Instead, we act as the missing link connecting products to consumers.

We are the only true omni-channel distributor of Cannabis in Canada with medical and recreational* direct-to-consumer eCommerce and provincial distribution across retail stores in Canada.
